

We Announce Hereby That
The El Paso Bank & Trust Company
 OF EL PASO, TEXAS
 Will Open For Business on Wednesday,
 April 6th, 1910,
 With Paid Capital of $100,000.00

The bank will be located in the Turner & Davis building, 319 San Antonio street, and will engage in a general commercial and savings banking and trust business, under what is known as the "GUARANTY FUND PLAN" OF THE GENERAL BANKING LAWS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS.

Our stockholders comprise some of the leading bankers and financiers of the State of Texas and of the Territory of New Mexico, and the officers of the institution, selected for their past records in the banking business, are practical bankers of many years' experience.

The business of the bank will be conducted by men of tried integrity and experience along approved conservative banking lines.

We shall be liberal in our dealings with our customers, yet consistent at all times with sound banking, never losing sight of the fact that we are administering the affairs of the bank for the benefit of our customers and stockholders.

No account will be too small to receive the consideration and courteous treatment accorded to the largest depositor, and our constant endeavor will be to compel by our courteous treatment the respect and confidence necessary to future success.

We extend a hearty welcome to all and promise the utmost courtesy and consideration to customer and visitor alike.

We wish to meet you and to extend to you the facilities of our good banking institution.

El Paso Bank & Trust Company
 319 San Antonio Street

By James Forbes
 Copyright, 1908, by J. W. Dillingham Company.

THE CHORUS LADY

Novelized From Forbes's Play of the Same Name by John W. Harding

(Continued From Saturday.)

CHAPTER XIV.
 FOR a time after Mallory had left him O'Brien "consumed himself with patience," but the minutes, that seemed to have lengthened into a thousand seconds each, accumulated until his absence, which was to have lasted half an hour, just the time to bring Mrs. O'Brien back, had extended considerably over an hour. The old man could contain himself no longer and started after Mallory and his wife.

Meanwhile Crawford had been reviewing the exciting events that had succeeded each other so quickly that night and almost had culminated in a disgraceful fight. First there was Nora, with her role of innocence so cleverly played, who had been getting money and presents out of him and fooling him. He was entirely cured of any infatuation he had felt for her. Then there was Patsy, who for the second time had dressed him down, sat upon him and rubbed it in by putting him through the disagreeable process of being shown up to himself. Finally there was the low stableman with whom he had associated, who had bullied him and threatened him with personal violence. With Mallory at least he would get even, and at once, by immediate dissolution of partnership and pressure for settlement of their affairs. This, he knew, would put Mallory to sore straits, owing to his lack of ready money and the onerous conditions of their contract. Mallory, in fact, would be placed in such a position that he would not be able to carry on the stable. Practically it would mean ruin for him and, therefore, for the whole O'Brien family. From this prospect Crawford derived some consolation for his wounded feelings and ruffled temper.

"I'll teach the whole dirty crowd that they backed up against the wrong man," he muttered. "I'll have those girls fired from the Long Acre not later than tomorrow, and it won't be my fault if they succeed in getting, or at least in keeping, another engagement in little old New York."

He was pacing up and down, savoring in advance the fruit of revenge, when Rogers announced that O'Brien wished to see him.

"Tell O'Brien to go to hades and throw him down the elevator shaft if he gives you any back talk," he ordered.

"Very good, sir," said the valet. "No, let him come in," called Crawford, suddenly changing his mind.

O'Brien, hat in hand, was ushered in. Crawford received him defiantly.

"What do you want?" he demanded shortly.

"O' came after me wolfe, who came to fetch Nora," replied the old man, his blue eyes fixing him fearfully.

"Your wife went away from here with Mallory some time ago," said Crawford. "The whole family appears to be coming here one after the other."

"God knows O' don't want to trouble ye anny, an' O' didn't come here to pay no social call," retorted the old man, "but O'Ve a roight to fetch me own wolfe an' a roight to know if it's true that Nora come here."

"Ask your wife, ask Mallory. I've told them all I intend to say. I'm tired of answering to one set of fools a pack of lies told by other fools, and I'm through with the whole gang. All I get for taking an interest in your precious girls and being kind to them is ingratitude and abuse. Here's a note for $300 I lent them to get them out of a hole. It's signed with your name, as you can see. Here, take it and give it to them as a souvenir if they or you haven't the decency to make good."

He handed the note to the old man, who gazed alternately at him and the paper, too bewildered to comprehend it for a moment.

"D'ye mean to say me girls borrowed $300 av ye in my name?" he asked.

"That's what they did," affirmed Crawford. "And it's up to you to pay."

"O' can't pay," said the old man, agitated. "O' haven't got $300 in the world, leave alone in me pocketbook."

Crawford shrugged his shoulders and, refusing the paper O'Brien held out to him, turned on his heels.

"Well, being swindled out of $300 more or less won't ruin me," he said. "I suppose it was only what I ought to have expected, seeing the class of people I have been fool enough to deal with."

(To Be Continued.)

RETURNS TO SANTA FE.

Governor William J. Mills, of New Mexico, who was here Saturday as guest of the directors of the Southwestern Portland Cement company, and his friends living in El Paso, returned to Santa Fe Saturday evening.

District attorney W. D. Howe is back at work again after having been confined to his home for a week on account of illness.

ROOSEVELT AND THE VATICAN DISAGREE

(Continued From Page One.)

on the understanding first made known. To this Mr. Roosevelt answered through Mr. Leishman: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt insists that the incident be treated as purely personal, and earnestly hopes that it will not give rise to any bitterness. He appreciates the attitude of the vatican, but feels that as a free American citizen he cannot consistently take any action that might be construed as involving a limitation of the freedom of his personal conduct.

No Visit to Pope.
 The former president called off his expected visit to the vatican some time ago, but this only became publicly known today, when the cable correspondence between Mr. Roosevelt and Africa and the vatican was published.

Mr. Roosevelt wrote ambassador Leishman saying that he would be glad of the honor of an audience with king Victor Emmanuel and the pope. The audience with the king was promptly arranged. Before an arrangement could be reached relative to an audience with the pope, several telegrams were passed, and the negotiations were ended by Mr. Roosevelt's refusing in any way to be limited as to his conduct and announcing that an audience with the pope under the circumstances was now impossible.

History of Negotiations.
 While at Cairo, Mr. Roosevelt received the following telegram from ambassador Leishman, dated March 25:

"Monsignor Kennedy, rector of the American Catholic college, in reply to an inquiry which I caused to be made, requests that the following communication be sent to you:

"The holy father will be delighted to grant an audience to Mr. Roosevelt on April 5 and hopes that nothing will arise to prevent it, such as the much regretted incident which made the reception of Mr. Fairbanks impossible."

Roosevelt's Reply.
 Replying by cable to ambassador Leishman on March 25, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Please present the following to Mr. Kennedy: 'It would be a real pleasure to me to be presented to the holy father, for whom I entertain high respect, both personally and as the head of a great church. I fully recognize his right to receive or not receive whomsoever he chooses for any reason that seems good to him, and if he does not wish to see me I shall not for a moment question the propriety of his action. On the other hand, I, in my turn, decline to make any stipulations or submit to conditions, which in any way would limit my freedom of conduct. I trust that on April 5, he will find it convenient to receive me.'"

On March 25, Mr. Roosevelt, at Cairo, received a cablegram from ambassador Leishman giving the message from Mr. Kennedy, which concluded by saying: "The audience cannot take place except on the understanding expressed in the former message."

The following day Mr. Roosevelt sent another message to the American ambassador, saying: "The proposed presentation is, of course, now impossible."

Mr. Roosevelt particularly desired that the incident be regarded by his friends, both Catholic and Protestant, in America, as personal, and that it shall not give rise to an acrimonious controversy.

Roosevelt's Cable Statement.
 With this end in view he cabled Sunday the following statement to the Rev. Lyman Abbott, editor of the Outlook, at New York:

"Through the Outlook I wish to make a statement to my fellow Americans regarding what has occurred in connection with the vatican. I am sure that the great majority of my fellow citizens Catholics quite as much as Protestants will feel that I acted in the only way possible for an American to act, and because of this very fact, I most earnestly hope that the incident will be treated in a matter of course way as merely personal and above all as not warranting the slightest exhibition of rancor or bitterness."

Many Catholic Friends.
 "Among my best and closest friends are many Catholics. The respect and regard of those of my fellow Americans who are Catholics, are as dear to me as the respect and regard of those who are Protestants. On my journey through Africa I visited many Catholics as well as many Protestants. As I look forward to telling the people at home all that has been done by Protestants and Catholics alike as I saw it, in the field of missionary endeavor, it would cause me a real pang to have anything said or done that would hurt or give pain to my friends, whatever their religious belief. But any merely personal considerations are of no consequence in this. The important consideration is the avoidance of harsh and bitter comment such as may excite mistrust and anger between, and among good men."

The more an American sees of other countries the more profound must be his feeling of gratitude that in his own lands there is not merely complete toleration but the heartiest good will and sympathy between sincere and honest men of different faiths—good will and sympathy of our American life, Catholics and Protestants meet together and work together without thought of the difference of creed being even present in their minds."

Avoid Bitter Comment.
 "This is a condition so vital to our national well being that nothing should be permitted to jeopardize it. Bitter comment and articles, acrimonious attack and defense, are not only profitless, but harmful and to seize upon such an incident as this as an occasion for controversy, would be wholly indefensible and should be frowned upon by Catholics and Protestants alike and all good Americans."

Rome Arrived.
 The failure to arrange an audience between ex-president Roosevelt and the pope, is expected to create a tremendous stir here as well as abroad, far overshadowing the importance of the incident in which former vice-presidents was the principal. Although the negotiations were technically between ambassador Leishman and Monsignor Kennedy, it is well understood in Rome that Monsignor Kennedy was acting under the instructions of cardinal Merry Del Val. The telegrams, therefore, were in reality between ex-president Roosevelt and the papal secretary of state.

veit will not visit the Methodists here!"

Mr. O'Loughlin replied: "I cannot. Indeed, I believe that Mr. Roosevelt is just the man to go there. He will do as he pleases."

"It is indefensible," said the papal secretary, "for any person to ask to be received by a great personage whose feelings he would be unwilling to respect."

In the course of further conversation the cardinal declared that no court in Europe granted unrestricted audiences.

"Mr. Roosevelt," said the cardinal, "when he was president of the United States declined to receive persons unconditionally at the white house."

Returning to the political incident cardinal Merry Del Val said: "It is not any sense a question of religion. Mr. Roosevelt might have gone to an Episcopalian, a Presbyterian or any other church except the Methodist and delivered an address there and he would have been received by the pope even on the same day. But he could not be received when it was suspected that after the audience he intended to go to the Methodist church in Rome, which is carrying on a most offensive campaign of calumny and detraction against the pontiff."

The papal secretary even recognized Mr. Roosevelt's right to claim the privilege of visiting the Methodist day after the audience, on condition that he, Merry Del Val, receive private assurances that he would not actually do so.

Outlook Issues Statement.
 The Outlook has issued the following: New York, April 4.—"The Outlook is authorized to say Mr. Roosevelt had not directly or indirectly communicated with the Methodists or any one else, and had not made any agreement to speak or to receive anybody. He entered Rome with no arrangements of any kind save the audience with the king, so that the vatican in endeavoring to impose conditions upon him, acted before he even thought of taking steps for any other engagement."

National Affront.
 Bishop David H. Greer, of the Episcopal diocese of New York, commenting on Col. Roosevelt's experiences with the vatican, said that in his opinion the American people would regard it as a national affront. "And they will continue to regard it in this light," he said, "no matter how much Col. Roosevelt or others attempt to deprecate the incident."

The vatican's attitude, he characterized as illadvised. A copy of the Roosevelt correspondence was delivered last night to archbishop Farley's secretary but no comment was forthcoming.

"It would be manifestly improper," said the secretary, "to disturb the archbishop at this hour with a matter of this nature."

Makes Tillman Sick.
 In a telegram from Atlanta, Ga., to the New York World senator Tillman, of South Carolina, says: "All this hoopla over Roosevelt makes me sick."

EL PASOANS GO TO ATTEND TEMPLAR GRAND CONCLAVE.
 H. A. Carpenter, grand commander of the Knights Templar, of Texas, and J. L. Hewitt, eminent commander of El pasos, will leave this evening for Houston to attend the convention of the grand commandery of the state, which will be held in Houston beginning April 7. As grand commander Mr. Carpenter will preside at all of the meetings and Mr. Hewitt will represent the El Paso commandery at these meetings. John M. Wyatt will also attend the grand commandery meeting but will be unable to get away from his business before Tuesday evening.

John D. Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is simply impossible, and so says every one that has used it. Sold by all dealers.

LARGEST EXCLUSIVE WHOLESALE & RETAIL MILLINERY IN THE SOUTHWEST.
Posener's

Wood's Special Candies
 Made of the best material, absolutely pure. None so delicious.
 Regular price 25c and 40c per pound.

CUT THIS OUT.
 If presented this week entitles you to introductory price of 15c and 25c per lb. This does not apply on chocolates and bonbons.

WOOD Confectionery
 435 N. Oregon

Paso commandery No. 18, will leave this evening for Houston to attend the convention of the grand commandery of the state, which will be held in Houston beginning April 7. As grand commander Mr. Carpenter will preside at all of the meetings and Mr. Hewitt will represent the El Paso commandery at these meetings. John M. Wyatt will also attend the grand commandery meeting but will be unable to get away from his business before Tuesday evening.

John D. Rockefeller would go broke if he should spend his entire income trying to prepare a better medicine than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for diarrhea, dysentery or bowel complaints. It is simply impossible, and so says every one that has used it. Sold by all dealers.

LARGEST EXCLUSIVE WHOLESALE & RETAIL MILLINERY IN THE SOUTHWEST.
Posener's

First National Bank
 United States Depository
 Capital and Surplus, $600,000.00

Assets - - - - $4,500,000.00
 WE SOLICIT YOUR BANKING BUSINESS

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
 W. W. TURNER, Chairman.
 JOSEPH A. RAYNOLDS, President.
 James G. McNary, Vice-President.
 Jno. M. Reynolds, Vice-President.
 EDGAR W. KAYSER, Cashier.

C. R. MOREHEAD, President.
 JOSEPH MAGOFFIN, V. Pres.
 L. J. GILCHRIST, Asst. Cash.

GEO. D. FLORY, Cashier.
 C. N. BASSETT, Vice Pres.

State National Bank
 ESTABLISHED APRIL, 1881.
 CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND PROFITS, $175,000.
 A Legitimate Banking Business Transacted in All Its Branches.
 HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR MEXICAN MONEY.

THE RIGHT USE OF TIME
 Determines efficiency and success in every man's life. The El Paso Y. M. C. A. offers privileges giving excellent opportunity for the profitable spending of leisure time. Features—physical, educational, social—that appeal to every man with good red blood in his veins. Join this week during the special campaign.

Rio Grande Valley Bank & Trust Co.,
 EL PASO, TEXAS.

CITY NATIONAL BANK
 EL PASO, TEXAS
 UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY
 Capital, $150,000.00. Surplus and Profits, $25,000.00
 OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS:
 U. S. Stewart Frank Powers H. J. Simmons
 A. G. Andrews E. Kohlberg B. Blumenthal
 J. F. Williams J. H. May
 YOUR BANKING BUSINESS IS RESPECTFULLY INVITED

GUARANTY TRUST & BANKING COMPANY
 OF EL PASO, TEX.
 INDIVIDUALS OR FIRMS
 who contemplate coming to El Paso are invited to make this bank their headquarters in arranging their business matters and transacting their financial affairs. We open checking accounts both large and small, pay 4% interest on savings, and rent Safe Deposit Boxes for the safekeeping of valuables for $3.00 per year.

INDIGESTION, HEARTBURN, HEADACHE AND GAS ON STOMACH WILL VANISH.

A Little Diapepsin makes your out-of-order Stomach feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliouness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a Little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

stand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliouness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a Little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliouness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapepsin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a Little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery. Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Trouble and Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50-cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspepsia trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or Indigestion in five minutes. Diapepsin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Biliouness or Constipation.